In the 1950s, the wool trade epitomised the Australian way of life. Australia's export economy rode high 'on the Sheep's Back'. Photojournalist Francis Reiss documents the life and times of a sheep industry family with enduring images of Rex White of Burren Burren, near Collarenebri, New South Wales. The images, taken in 1951, offer a glimpse of the 30,000 acres and 5,000 sheep that symbolise a successful farm at the height of the wool boom in Australia.

MAY

Matsudo Week Exhibition Mokuhanga: The Tradition of Japanese Woodblock Printing

1 – 13 May

The City of Whitehorse has a Sister City Relationship with Matsudo, a Japanese city on the outskirts of Tokyo. The relationship was developed by the former City of Box Hill in 1971 and was continued by the City of Whitehorse in 1994, when local government in Victoria amalgamated.

The two cities participate in an active exchange program for young people, which strengthens cultural understanding and promotes friendly relations. The relationship also promotes economic development opportunities between the two countries. This exhibition is a celebration of this enduring Sister City Relationship.

Mokuhanga, Japanese for 'wood block print', is the beautiful traditional water-based printing technique of Japan. A print is created through design, carving blocks for each colour, and then printing each colour successively until the print is completed. This exhibition features a series of Mokuhanga designed and created by local secondary school students, guided by artist Terry McKenna from the Australian Mokuhanga School.

Turn to page 17 for more information about Matsudo Week workshops at BHCAC.

We endeavour to create an environment that is safe, inclusive, conducive to learning and free from harassment and bullying.

We have a four-tier procedure for dealing with inappropriate behaviour.

- 1 Tutor/BHCAC Staff will verbally warn the child that their behaviour is inappropriate and the reason why.
- 2 Timeout – the child will be sent to the office area to be cared for by office staff.
- 3 If appropriate, the child will be returned to class after approximately 10 minutes in the BHCAC office. If the child is not deemed ready to return to the class he/she will be kept at the office for a further 10 minutes.
- 4 On returning to the class, if the child's behaviour does not improve, the child will be returned to the office area and staff will call their parent/carer for immediate collection.

Parents please note:

- Children must wear smocks or old clothes for clay and painting classes and bring a towel for wheel classes. For cooking classes, children need to wear an apron and bring a container.
- If you arrive early, please stay with your children until the class begins. We cannot supervise children before the class has started or in between classes.
- Parents or guardians must drop off children at the class room at the beginning of every term class and sign out the child at its conclusion. Please initial the sign out sheet at the door as you collect your child.
- Due to child allergies, peanuts / peanut-butter sandwiches are not permitted.
- All classes for children aged six years and over are for children only. Parents should not stay in the classroom, but are welcome to wait elsewhere in the centre.
- If your child has an illness or allergy that requires a medical plan e.g. asthma or anaphylaxis etc. please inform office staff at time of enrolment. A medical management plan must be submitted as least two days prior to your child's class date.

Sustainable Cooking: Cook Without a Recipe

What will I cook for dinner tonight? We've all been there: deciding that you don't want to cook the same old thing, you waste half your lunchbreak looking at recipes online, battle the crowds after work as you run up and down the aisles shopping for the long list of ingredients, and then after all your effort, you end up with half-used bunches of herbs, flaccid vegetables and opened jars left to grow mould in your fridge. It's not only a waste of time and money, but most importantly, food.

In this class, Jessie from Leftover Lovers will show you how to stop wasting food and unleash your creativity by using what's on hand to create simple yet delicious everyday meals. Jessie will start with a talk about food waste, and a food box will be given to each participant. You will then cook up two delicious meals, plus sides to accompany them, based on what is in the box: from rich satays, to versatile sauces and complex curries, the possibilities are endless. Jessie will also provide plenty of tips and tricks so that you can learn how to adapt these dishes to whatever you have on hand and build the confidence to cook without a recipe. Materials included. Whitehorse Orchestra, one of Melbourne’s finest community orchestras, enjoys the leadership of Musical Director, Gerald Keuneman, OAM, the honour having being awarded in recognition of his dedication to community music. The orchestra rehearses on Saturdays from 9am to midday and presents several concerts, including some specifically designed for very young audiences, each year. New members are always welcome, but there is a waiting list in some sections. Although the orchestra has a non-audition policy, the music program can be quite challenging.
